Dope For Fans

Few people realize the dangerous position a pitcher is in when facing a heavy batter, and what would be the result if the batsman was to drive a terrific line hit back at him while he was recovering his balance after delivering the ball, writes Charley Hickman.

"The pitcher when delivering the ball goes through all kinds of motions to deceive the batter, as well as to give the ball extra speed, and in doing this it is almost impossible for him to pull himself together in time to field a hard hit ball. Very often you have seen balls go through the pitcher's box that you thought ought to have been caught or at least knocked down. Whenever you see a ball go through the box without any apparent effort on the pitcher's part to knock it down, you can take it from me that he could not recover himself in time to field it. Probably he had made a supreme effort to fool the batsman and in doing so he had over-balanced himself.

"I will relate a few instances where pitchers have failed to get out of the way of hard hit balls, and what happened to them.
"Several years ago in a ball game between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, Bill Schriver, of Cincinnati, hit a ball back at Hart, who was pitching for Pittsburgh, with such force that it broke Hart's jaw in two places.
"A year or so later Harry McCormick, the old Washington second baseman, but who at this time was playing with Chicago, drove a ball back at Jimmy Hughes, of Pittsburgh, hitting him squarely between the eyes. Jimmy was not very badly injured, but received beautiful black eyes as a result of the collision.
"It is related and I have no reason to think it was not from a truthful source, that Eddie Murphy, the old Philadelphia National league pitcher, was hit in the forehead in a game at Rochester, N. Y., by Judge Smith, with such force that Bill Smith, the catcher, caught the ball on the rebound before it hit the ground.
"Every Washington fan can remember the game in New York when 'KID' Elberfeld hit a liner back at Case Patten, almost splitting his mouth from ear to ear. Case had to have several stitches taken in his gold mine, and it was a week or more before he could eat anything thicker than pea soup.
"Nick Albreck, of the Chicago White Sox, had the same experience a month or so later, but Nick never had his mouth sewed up. That's why Nick can make so much noise on the coaching line.
"Several years ago, in a full game at Philadelphia, between Cincinnati and Philadelphia, Al Orth hit a ball back at Frank Dwyer, hitting him with such force in the temple that the ball was caught on the fly by Tommy Corcoran, the Cincinnati shortstop. Dwyer was badly injured that he did not come to for several hours; in fact, at one time the doctors despaired of saving his life. It was several weeks before he attempted to pitch again, but it was not the same Dwyer. He had lost his nerve, and was unable to face the batter with any degree of confidence. He retired a short time later on.

Cincinnati, O., March 27.—The National Baseball commission today granted the request for reinstatement of player J. J. Callahan on condition that he pay a fine of $100. The services of Callahan had been vested in the Chicago American league club, but he did not report to that club for several years, he having been managing the Logan Squares of Chicago (the result being the placing of his name on the ineligible list).
In the case of Player F. B. Joy, who requested that he be declared a free agent because the Boston National league club, which has title to his services, did not send him a contract, the committee rejected the request on the ground that he is not justified in his complaint as the Boston club offered him a fair and reasonable contract, and he refused to sign it.

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism. It got me out of the house in 24 hours. I took to my bed with rheumatism nine months ago and Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. Know Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by The Denville Pharmacy, Drugist, Opp. Kerr House.
